

SPLITS & SPILLS

MANIFESTO

Aging is gradual, aging is truthful, aging is honest.

Design can fade from existence, or it can evolve into something magical.

Design should be simple but also resourceful.

We must respect nature and its materials.

It's okay to be different!

Like humans the uniqueness and lack of uniformity is what gives objects character.

We look to champion the imperfections to break 'material standards.'

The dawn of the machine has brought accuracy and speed.

But our aim is to create affordable and meaningful products that fuse craftsmanship with modern technology.

Is the machine a threat or is it a powerful ally?
